A MESSAGE FROM THE PASTOR

“Someone has to graduate last in their class at MIT.” I once heard a principal say this. In some ways, it is a statement of the obvious. Someone will end up ranking last in their class at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, one of the most prestigious academic institutions in the country. But even if you’re last in your class at MIT, you still rank above many students at other institutions. Even if you’re last in your class at MIT, you are still graduating with a very valuable degree. Far from just stating the obvious, I think the principal was trying to say that even if someone ranks near the bottom of their graduating class, at MIT or anywhere else, they are still graduates. Even if they don’t have a high class ranking or win any academic awards, they can still take what they have learned and use it to succeed in life and make the world a better place. What a student does after graduating, what a student does with what he or she has learned, is the important thing.

This is the time of year for graduations. Whether you are graduating from pre-school or kindergarten, grade school or high school, college or law school or business school or medical school, that principal’s words would be good ones to keep in mind. Not everyone can rank number one in their class. Not everyone wins scholarships or makes the honor roll or wins academic honors. While all those honors and awards are nice, they are part of the past. It’s what you do after you graduate that will be important. How you use the knowledge and skill you have acquired is what will bring you success in the future. What you do with the lessons you have learned is what will make a difference in your life and in the lives of others. That is why we sometimes refer to a graduation as a commencement rather than a conclusion. Graduation marks a new beginning in your life. What you do with that new beginning will matter a lot more than what you did previously.

I hope this is something that all of our graduates will keep in mind this year. No matter what your class rank was, you are still a graduate. You may have never made an honor roll or won any academic honors, but you are still a graduate. What you did or did not do in the past will not matter as much as what you will do in the future. It’s what you do in the future that will matter the most and make the difference. I hope this is something that all the graduates from our parish, whatever school they are graduating from, will remember and try to live out in the future. Congratulations to all the graduates from our parish!

There will be a communal celebration of the Anointing of the Sick at the 8:30 AM Mass on Saturday, June 11. All the sick and elderly of the parish are welcome to receive this sacrament of our Lord’s healing and peace.

STATEMENT OF CARDINAL BLASE J. CUPICH, ARCHBISHOP OF CHICAGO, ON THE MASSACRE OF CHILDREN IN UVALDE, TEXAS

May 24, 2022

Today, a gunman walked into a grade school in Uvalde, TX, and slaughtered at least 18 children and two adults—in addition to shooting his grandmother. Authorities say the suspect is dead. He was 18 years old.

The parents were told, “Please do not pick up students at this time. Students need to be accounted for before they are released to your care.” Imagine being a parent with a child in that school. Imagine having to bury them.

Parents now face a delay in identifying the victims—such was the extent of the damage done to these children’s bodies by the killer’s weapons.

The NRA has its annual meeting on Friday in Houston, about 300 miles east of the massacre, less than a year after the TX governor signed into law a bill that allows people without license or training to carry handguns.

We don’t yet know whether the Uvalde gunman took advantage of “permitless carry,” but we do know that America is awash in guns. We have more firearms than people.

It was not always this way. But more Americans died from gun violence in 2020 than during any other year on record: more than 45,000. That was a 25% increase from 2015, and a 43% increase from 2010.

Mass shootings have become a daily reality in America today. Two people died and 7 were injured last week during a mass shooting just down the street from Holy Name Cathedral. Last weekend in Chicago, 28 people were shot.

The size of the crisis, and its sheer horror, make it all too easy to toss up one’s hands and declare: Nothing can be done. But that is the counsel of despair, and we are a people of hope. What do we hope for our children?

That as a regular feature of their schooling, they learn how to behave should a shooter attack? That they feel endangered by simply doing what society says is good for them—going to school? That they come to wonder whether they even have futures at all?

Tonight our airwaves will fill with pundits who offer predictable lamentations and warnings and tut-tuts and thoughts and prayers. And we must pray—for the victims, their loved ones, for the parents who will send their kids off to school tomorrow.

We must weep and soak in the grief that comes with the knowledge that these children of God were cut down by a man who was just a few years their senior. But then we must steel ourselves to act in the face of what seems like insurmountable despair.

We know that gun safety measures make a difference. A 2021 Northwestern Medicine study found that the Federal Assault Weapons Ban prevented 10 mass shootings during the 10 years it was in effect. <https://news.northwestern.edu/stories/2021/03/assault-weapon-ban-significantly-reduces-mass-shooting/>

Researchers also determined that if the ban had remained in place in the years since it was allowed to expire, it could have prevented another 30 public mass shootings that killed 339 people and injured 1139 more.

As I reflect on this latest American massacre, I keep returning to the questions: Who are we as a nation if we do not act to protect our children? What do we love more: our instruments of death or our future?

The Second Amendment did not come down from Sinai. The right to bear arms will never be more important than human life. Our children have rights too. And our elected officials have a moral duty to protect them.

Spiritual Life

Do you know someone in the military and would like to add their name to our list? We would be happy to include their name and pray for them. Please call the Rectory at 425.5354 ext 203 or email bulletineditor@mostholyredeemer.org.

Do you hear the call to share your faith with others? Our School of Religion offers many opportunities to share their faith with the children of our Parish. This year, especially, we are in need of 11 Catechists and 17 Aides (one for each classroom). We offer training and a path to certification with the Archdiocese. Please pray on this need.

Our religious education program runs solely on volunteers. We are in need of SOR parents and MHR School parents to help continue to make our great program even better! We cannot do this alone! Catechists and Aides are still needed in the following grades:
