A MESSAGE FROM THE PASTOR

October is Respect Life Month, and this weekend we observe Respect Life Sunday. During this month, the Church celebrates the sanctity of all human life from the moment of conception until natural death. The theme for Respect Life Month this year are the words of our Lord, "I came so that they might have life." While respect for life encompasses many issues including euthanasia, treatment of the elderly and infirm, fetal cell experimentation, treatment of the physically and mentally handicapped, war, and capital punishment, abortion is still the hot button issue.

Years ago, I took part in something called a Life Chain. On Respect Life Sunday, we lined up along LaGrange Road heading north from 159th Street. Everybody in the Life Chain held a sign that read, "Abortion Kills Children." We were not to shout any slogans or engage anyone in conversation, just stand there in silent witness for one hour.

What I still remember from that day were the reactions of those who drove past. A lot of people drove by without even looking at us. Either they were very intent on keeping their eyes on the road or they were intentionally ignoring us. A lot of people honked their horns and gave us a "thumbs up" to show their support. I was encouraged by how many of those showing approval were of high school or college age. Others showed how they felt by holding up a different digit as they drove by. If they were trying to tell us we were number one, they were using the wrong finger.

What I remember most though, is the negative reaction shown by so many people driving cars with children in the back seat. They were free to express their opinion, just as those in the Life Chain were free to express theirs. It's one of the privileges we have in the United States. But even though the drivers of those cars were freely expressing their opinion, I wondered what those children in the back seats were thinking. What message were they receiving about the value of their lives from their parents and grandparents who were driving those cars?

I still wonder about the message we send children about the value of their lives. What message are we sending when thousands break into wild applause when a political candidate promises to work for "reproductive freedom" or "the right to choose?" We all know what is being chosen and what that so-called freedom is. We are often shocked by the violence in our society today, the gun violence and all the other attacks on people. We are shocked when we hear about school shootings or when someone opens fire in a shopping mall. We are shocked when these events happen, as we should be. But while we're shocked, should we be surprised? If we send the message to our young people that life can be disposed of, should we be so surprised when they later dispose of life? What message are we sending children about the value of life? It's something to think about on this Respect Life Sunday and throughout the month.
